

Hemp Momma

Sustainable Clothing From Mother Earth

About Hemp Momma:

We've created an earth-friendly clothing line perfect for everyday use, always comfortable and beautiful with mix-and-match styles that offer something for everyone. Our fabrics are ultra-comfortable and long-lasting. Hemp Momma is a brand you can feel great about wearing and representing because we are fully committed to sustainability and socially conscious production practices.

Why Hemp Momma?

- We are committed to using sustainable materials
- We partner with socially conscious manufacturers
- We offer styles you can mix and match for everyday use
- Our fabrics are long-lasting and super durable
- The comfort and feel are amazing, and it gets better over time

Style with a conscience

 @hempmommahq

 @hempmommahq

Sustainability:

We are committed to creating clothing that respects both people and the planet. Currently, the vast majority of hemp is grown, milled and processed in Asia. The U.S. is now ramping up its infrastructure to compete globally since the legalization of hemp production in 2018.

Hemp Momma is exploring domestic collaborations in the U.S. to support hemp farmers and contribute to the new hemp industry. Meanwhile, we are proud of our manufacturing partners in Asia and their passion for hemp, fair labor practices, safe working conditions, and environmental stewardship. We take every step possible to ensure you can feel good wearing our clothes.

Here are some of our factory certifications:

GOTS: Global Organic Textile Exchange Standard

WRAP: World Responsible Apparel Production

OEKO-TEX® Standard 100: Garments free of harmful substances

Control Union Certification: Sustainable supply chains